Conference Description

This course will outline where standard practices in endoscopy are currently and how new innovations may enhance or revolutionize endoscopy practice in the future. A series of lectures, debates, and live case demonstrations over two full days will be conducted by expert faculty from multiple disciplines and from all over the world.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this educational activity, participants will be able to:

- Implement standard guidelines for screening and surveillance for Barrett's esophagus and colon cancer in practice.
- Appreciate importance of detailed white light examination and understand roles of digital imaging, chromoendoscopy, endomicroscopy, accessory cameras, and other advanced imaging in detection of luminal lesions.
- Define principles of safe and effective polypectomy and endoscopic resections.
- Recognize diagnostic options in tissue acquisition in pancreaticobiliary tumors.
- Understand management of pancreatitis and biliary pathology and roles of endoscopic procedures in these diseases.
- Understand endoscopic options for dealing with bariatric patients and achalasia patients.

Target Audience

This activity has been planned for Gastroenterologist, Endoscopists, Surgeons, Oncologist, Physician Assistants, Nurse Practitioners, Nurses and GI Fellows, and other health professionals committed to the advancement of endoscopy.

Accreditation and Credit Designation

The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

General Sessions (Friday And Saturday)

The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum 14 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Nurses and other healthcare professionals will receive a Certificate of Participation. For information on the applicability and acceptance of certificates of participation for educational activities certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ from organizations accredited by the ACCME, please consult your professional licensing board.

Educational Grants/Commercial Support

A complete listing of commercial support received will be provided in the conference materials.
