Disclosure Declarations

As a provider accredited by the ACCME, The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine asks everyone who is in a position to control the content of an education activity to disclose all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest. This includes any entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by or used on patients. The ACCME defines “relevant financial relationships” as financial relationships in any amount occurring within the past 12 months, including financial relationships of a spouse or life partner that could create a conflict of interest. Mechanisms are in place to identify and resolve any potential conflict of interest prior to the start of the activity.

Additionally, The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine asks authors to identify investigational products or off-label uses of products regulated by the US Food and Drug Administration at first mention and where appropriate in the content.

Conference Description

The evolving landscape of perioperative medicine has dramatically increased the scope and complexity of anesthesia care. New techniques, new drugs, new evidence, quality and safety concerns all play a role in today's practice environment. This conference will focus on areas of anesthetic care that require integrating these new aspects of medical care. Increasingly, we need to know not only whether techniques are effective, but also high quality, safe, evidence-based, and cost effective.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this educational activity, participants will be able to:

- Discuss the evidence supporting hemodynamic targets in the Operating room and consequences of not meeting these targets;
- State how to extend perioperative practice to include comprehensive pain management from the preoperative period to the postoperative period;
- Identify current areas of malpractice risk and strategies for mitigating that risk during perioperative care;
- Describe current evidence and recommended management for perioperative myocardial infarction;
- Discuss state of the art practices in central line insertion including strategies for avoiding anatomic complications such as arterial puncture and pneumothorax, reducing central line-associated blood stream infection (CLABSI), and improving first pass success rates;
- Examine controversies in obstetric anesthesia including labor analgesia, adjunct agents for maternal hemorrhage, and oxygen for cesarean section;
- Summarize the emerging use of transthoracic echo to guide perioperative and shock resuscitation;
- Manage perioperative mechanical ventilation, including PEEP, driving pressure, and tidal volume;
- Explain perioperative neuromonitoring and anesthetic strategies for neurosurgical procedures with neuromonitoring.

Target Audience

The target audience includes Anesthesiologists, Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetists and other clinicians and health care professionals working with a variety of patients and practice settings.

Workshop: Friday, December 2nd and Saturday, December 3rd Problem Based Learning Discussions (PBLD)

These one hour small-group, case-based, active learning sessions use specific case scenarios to address a wide selection of anesthesia topics. The format involves a faculty facilitator and up to 12 participants per session. Specific case information and selected readings are provided in advance to participants, who arrive at the session ready to participate actively. We have chosen six of our most popular teachers to serve as facilitators, each on a topic in their own specialty.

Price: $55.00 per session. Each session will be strictly limited to a maximum of 12 participants. Participants may register for multiple PBLD sessions. Each session is equal to 1 credit hour.
