The American College of Osteopathic Internists (ACOI) is accredited by the American Osteopathic Association (AOA). ACOI designates this live activity for a maximum of 15 AOA Category 1-A Specialty (internal medicine) CME credits to be awarded. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the educational activity.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine and American College of Osteopathic Internists (ACOI). The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 15 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Practice Gap

Internists have very busy practices, and it is difficult for them to keep updated on all the medical advances and structural initiatives related to the myriad of clinical cases that are presented to them. This conference will fill this gap in internists' practices.

Target Audience

This activity has been designed for osteopathic internists, subspecialists and other health professionals attending the OMED 2016.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of the activity, the learner will be able to:

- Identify sources of waste and overuse in healthcare
- Describe the differential dx of difficult to manage reflux disease, general bowel disease, and HCV
- Recognize best practice treatment approaches for selected endocrine diseases
- Describe current insights into the diagnosis and treatment of common oncologic diseases
- Review best practices and guidelines for Afib and heart failure

Goal

The goal of this activity is to provide osteopathic internists and subspecialists clinical updates for their practices in order to provide better patient care.

Outcomes

This activity will provide osteopathic internists and subspecialists updates in the areas of healthcare administration, gastroenterology, cardiology, hematology, and oncology, empowering them to provide improved care to their patients.
