

MACLEAN CENTER CONFERENCE - NOV 11-12, 2022

The 34th Annual MacLean Center Conference in Clinical Medical Ethics

The conference for attendees will be virtual

Attendance is free

November 11-12, 2022

University of Chicago

Each year for the past 34 years, the MacLean Center has hosted a conference that draws speakers who discuss today's issues in clinical medical ethics. The conference remembers Dorothy Jean MacLean, who helped create the MacLean Center and was deeply committed to its work. Dorothy J. MacLean believed that education was the best way to improve the world and throughout her life supported many leading educational institutions.

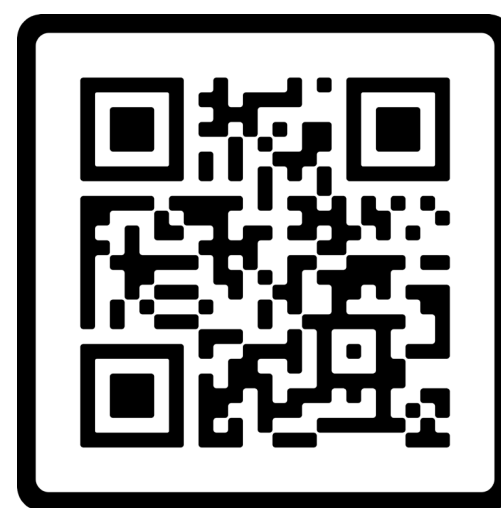

The MacLean Conference will include many exceptional lectures on topics such as Clinical Ethics Consultation, Clinical Ethics Decision-Making, Health Policy, Health Care Disparities, Pediatric Ethics, Surgical Ethics, and General Clinical Ethics.

Please email us at macleancenterethics@gmail.com if you have any questions at all.

The MacLean Conference is free and open to the public.

To register and learn more:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/the-34th-annual-maclean-center-conference-tickets-344838319697>

THE MACLEAN
CENTER

