Updates in IBD and Annual Updates in Digestive Diseases to be held September 23 & 24, 2022 LIVE IN-PERSON & VIRTUALLY at the University of Chicago, David Rubenstein Forum, 1201 E. 60th Street, Chicago, IL.

The Updates in IBD and Annual Updates in Digestive Diseases is a 2 day educational activity that will provide the latest evidence-based education in the diagnosis and management of gastrointestinal (GI) and liver diseases presented by experts in the field that will lead to highly trained healthcare professionals able to provide the highest level of patient care.

The activity’s first day will focus on cutting-edge diagnostics and therapeutics in inflammatory bowel disease (IBD). It will feature discussions of the use and positioning of newly approved IBD therapies and will include multidisciplinary management of difficult situations in IBD. The second day will address the latest updates in small bowel enteropathies, liver disease and living donor liver transplantation, colon cancer genetics, and advanced endoscopic approaches to colon and pancreatic cancer. The course will also feature GI content and keynote addresses from international IBD expert Dr. Shomron Ben-Horin and a noted expert in gastroenterology diversity and equity, Dr. Adjoa Anyane-Yeboa.

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will have acquired critical knowledge to improve their performance in the treatment of patients with gastrointestinal diseases.

Chicago is a city rich in academic tradition, and we welcome you to join us. Given the current pace of increasing information and knowledge, there is an important need to discuss the growing body of data regarding the biology and treatment of patients with digestive diseases. Our stellar speakers’ list draws from the expertise of the internationally and nationally renowned physicians at the University of Chicago.

This conference offers a tremendous opportunity to showcase your company products, services and achievements in front of key decision makers and industry leaders. Increase your visibility and company profile by participating as a virtual exhibitor at this exciting event.

The 7th annual conference is expected to attract over 150 leaders in the fields of medical gastroenterology, surgery, fellows-in-training, nurses, and allied health professionals committed to preventing, controlling, and eliminating digestive diseases. This is an opportunity to market and highlight the broad range of products and services your company has to offer.

We hope you will join us along with our growing number of exhibitors this year!
